

BLOOD DRIVE

Because of you, life doesn't stop.

"When our son Kyle was in 6th grade, he started having recurring earaches, drinking gallons of liquids per day, and had skin lesions on his scalp. Doctors did a biopsy and he was diagnosed with Langerhans Cell Histiocytosis X. The disease had already affected his skull, his skin and his hypothalamus. After weekly chemo and daily steroid treatments, Kyle's blood counts went very low and they had to pause his chemo. He was in need of blood transfusions, but they were able to give him blood right away, thanks to so many generous blood donors. His blood counts came up and they were able to continue with his chemotherapy. There are not enough words to thank donors and the organizations that make blood donation possible. We are forever grateful he has beaten the disease and is now a husband and father of two!"

~Kathy Chase, Kyle's mom
